

Today The Field Lindbergh Saw First We Junk, Then Build A New 100,000-Mile Sea And a Human Problem

By Arthur Brisbane

IN SPITE OF YOG, Lindbergh flew non-stop from the Capital of the United States to the Capital of Mexico.

The long-distance non-stop flight, increasing fuel load, is dangerous. Lindbergh should feel he has done his share in that direction. After his return from Paris, he said he would make any other flight to Europe via the Azores, the sensible route, taking fuel at the midway islands, keeping his load light.

Landing on Mexico's Valbuesna Military Aviation Field, Lindbergh found himself within two and a half miles of Mexico's greatest city, on a landing field six miles square. He would not find anything like that near New York, America's biggest city.

Twenty-five miles out on Long Island, there is the little field, so small that Lindbergh almost stalled in his take-off for Paris, barely missing trees, sheds and telegraph wires.

Lindbergh told reporters he hoped his non-stop flight would stimulate aviation in Mexico and Central America. Let's hope it will also stimulate flying and flying field construction in his backward country.

Congress is asked to appropriate $725,000,000 for new warships. And a little while ago, to please our British and Japanese friends, who could not afford to keep up with us, we junked hundreds of millions worth of new fighting ships, some not completed. That, you will admit, represents a high mark in national dignity. Let's hope none of our European brothers will persuade our boy statesmen to junk these new ships, before completion.

The Egyptian government considers a suggestion to flood ten thousand square miles of the Bahari Desert, lying below the level of the Mediterranean. A canal would let the Mediterranean water to the desert sea, as the Atlantic, rushing through the Straits of Gibraltar, created the Mediterranean in ages past.

The artificial desert sea, navigable for big ships, and prompting rainfall, near the Siva Oasis, would enable that land neighboring territory to support people. Turn to Page 21, Column 3.

Roar Goes up When Mexico Asks Lindy to See Bull Fight

Mexico City, Dec. 16 (U.S.S.)—America's best known "amateur" was face to face today with a problem demanding all his diplomacy. He has been invited to attend a gala bull fight on Sunday, evidently arranged in his honor.

However, the American House, looking after Lindbergh, is requesting Lindbergh not to attend.

HOPPE HURT AS AUTOS SKID

Numerous persons were injured, including Capt. Bernard J. Hoppe of Traffic Division 25, in automobile accidents caused by the slick storm which today led the streets of Greater Boston.

Automobiles skidded and reeled, as operators attempted to negotiate the slippery streets, through which they were crowded with sleds that froze as soon as they landed.

Capt. Hoppe, who was involved in his first automobile accident in eighteen years, was blown into a police "cylinder" driven by Officer Eugene E. O'Meara of No. 48 Leinard street, Dorchester, and carrying on the back seat Officers Robert O. Mayer and Frank Miller all of Division 25.

The police machine was going north on Boston street, Dorchester, when a truck occupied by Thomas J. Carney of Hickling street, Roxbury, swung around the corner from St. Margaret street.

O'Meara swung sharply to the right, but the machine struck the front of the truck, throwing Capt. Hoppe against the windshield. He sustained injuries to his head, nose, and back.

SENATE'S COMMITTEE 'GOING TO BOTTOM' IN TRACING SLUSH FUNDS

Washington, Dec. 16 (U.S.S.)—The Senate committee investigating the startling series of Mexican documents published in the Hearst newspaper, which set forth among other things that $1,510,000 was appropriated for "Cavalry" to United States Senators, decided today that it would "have to go clear to the bottom" of the affair.

"We may have to sail upon the government's deepest service operatives in this matter," Senator David A. Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, chairman of the investigating committee, after an executive session.

The committee, Reed said, would "have to go to the bottom" of the matter. Reed said that the committee would "have to go to the bottom" of the matter. Reed said that the committee would "have to go to the bottom" of the matter.

USE RIOT GUNS CHASING LYNN HIT-RUN DRIVER

Following an automobile crash in City Hall square, Lynn, in which a young woman was injured, Samuel West of Boston street, Winchester, was chased for a mile today by several General Electric Company guards with shot weapons joining in the pursuit, and eventually arrested.

On being looked at Lynn headquarters for drunkenness, operating under influence of liquor and going away after an accident without revealing his identity, it was found West was wanted in Swampscott for another accident in which a young man was hurt.

West appeared in his machine in City Hall square just as hundreds on foot, were bound to work. With a crash that was audible for blocks, West's machine crashed into that operated by Junior Ames, who conducted an investigation into Elias activities four years ago, has been supposed to appear at tomorrow's session.

WIFE NAMES 'KRESGE'S 'LOVE MATE' IN BITTER NEW YORK COURT FIGHT

New York, Dec. 16.—John S. Kresge, multi-millionaire and empire store magnate and anti-alcohol crusader, today was accused in Supreme Court by his wife's attorneys of maintaining "love nests" in East Forty-eighth street, New York, and in Natchez, Miss., and living with a Miss Gladys Adelle Fish.

Walter Lynch, attorney for Mrs. Kresge in her divorce action, declared Kresge and Miss Fish passed under the name of "Mr. and Mrs. J. Kresge."

Lynch declared that not only did Kresge maintain Miss Fish in her apartment but that when she was "out of the city, Kresge entertained young girls in the love nest."

Lynch informed the court that he had affidavits to support his charges, and that he would produce them in court.

Lynch, in the course of outlining his case for divorce, called the court's attention to Kresge's recent $200,000 Anti-Alcohol League gift. Kresge explained at the time that his donation was to "save the youth of the nation."

The attorney told Judge Thomas that Kresge had been convicted of "immoral conduct" in 1917, and that he had been sentenced to prison for three months.

LINDY PLANS 'GOOD WILL' TOUR OF 4 CENTRAL AMERICAN NATIONS

PAVSKY HERO NEW HONORS

Mr. Pavsky, said that the order in which he will visit the four Central American countries had not been decided.

He will fly from Central America to Havana, and then from Havana directly to St. Louis, Missouri.

May See Bull Fight

Col. Lindbergh indicated that he might go to a bull fight on Sunday, when asked about contests from the United States against his going to a bull fight, he replied: "I think Mexico is perfectly capable of choosing its own national sport."

"Yes, I will go to see that bull fight Sunday if the invitation comes with my official program," he added.

He said that he had seen one bull fight once in Laredo, but another declined to answer what he thought of it.

Protests from organizations in all parts of the United States against the possible attendance at a bull fight continue to reach the embassy. About sixty have been received, including one from Minnie Mathers Fiske.

Colonel Lindbergh, who visited the American school here today where he was received with welcome and applause, told the reporters that he believed a regular airline service would be established between the United States and Mexico Central American countries before very long.

This would come, he thought, before a regular transatlantic air service could be established.

Lindbergh said that he did not believe transatlantic air service was feasible yet, and added that he considered the flight to Paris more difficult than that to Mexico City.

Did Not Break Record

Lindbergh said that he ate all three of the meat sandwiches which he carried on his trip from Washington and that he drank all the water he wanted, but did not leave when he reached Mexico City, the did not touch his emergency ration.

He estimated that he flew from 2,000 to 2,500 miles on the Washington-Mexico City flight, but he had not calculated the distance exactly.

Asked about a theory advanced in the Mexican aviation department that his flight constituted a record solo non-stop overland trip, he replied:

"This was far from the record. We do not make a distinction between land and water flights. Commander Doolittle holds the record."

Colonel Lindbergh sat on top of a desk in the office of the American embassy, when he was asked about the flight.

He talked freely whenever questions were asked concerning aviation, but appeared not interested when personalities or other subjects were introduced.

Those Sentinels

The interview concluded when one reporter asked if he was feeling more difficult regarding the Mexican situation than the French madame.

Lindbergh grinned and shook his head with a gesture of surrender. "Well, I guess that's about all," he laughed and jumped off the desk.

Then he went into the American embassy office to meet a committee from the Mexican Congress which had just arrived in town for his visit to the chamber yesterday.

The American ambassador, who is guest of the American embassy, appeared in the pink of condition for his work in the city.

He breakfasted fully on eggs, toast, coffee and fruit, and then strode out onto the green lawn pool of the last one today and al-

Senorita Steals a Kiss From Lindy as Chums Hug Him

Mexico City, Dec. 16 (AP)—

—Mexican senoritas are no different from their foreign sisters when it comes to a desire to kiss Colonel Lindbergh.

Since his arrival many attempts to accomplish this feat have been made. Today a pretty typist, Miss Lolita Cur-gress, alone was successful.

It was all a plot. When the handsome air hero came from the official reception, a crowd of girls surrounded him. First they shook his hands; then suddenly they hugged him.

While Lindbergh was thus plucked Miss Congress planted a kiss on his cheek.

of the Embassy courtyard between the residence and the chancery he took a long breath of the crisp mountain air and revealed in the brilliant sunlight and blue sky.

Lindbergh was so impressed by the beautiful weather that he continued to the perfection of Mexico City's climate, which he is finding at the very best.

So eager was Lindbergh to leave home Colonel Lindbergh that it is impossible to buy an American flag anywhere in the city.

A Japanese merchant who had the largest stock of flags in town sold the last one today and although he could have gotten almost any price for the banners he stored in his flag was sold.

Lindbergh today revealed that he over carried a parachute on his flight, "he said in answer to queries."

"No, I have not carried parachutes in my flight," he said in answer to queries. "I could carry one in the event of St. Louis' air service."

'GANGSTERS' AT TRIAL, SAYS BUSHNELL

Paul D'Alema, accused of the two defendants, was arrested. This interruption of the trial came during questioning of Captain Patrick J. Hurley, County's superior officer, and at times acting chief of the Cambridge force.

The defense insisted that Hurley was disgraced with the opposition of the County forces during the special City Council election in which Hurley's son was defeated by Daniel P. Leahy, brother of Police Captain Leahy.

Captain Hurley testified that he heard Leahy speak with Pellicani on the phone on many occasions. The statement differs from testimony of Pellicani that he never talked with Leahy prior to the arrest of Paul D'Alema, accused of the two men.

Captain Hurley denied under cross-examination that he wanted to see Pellicani do wrong and that his reason for sending D'Alema to meet Pellicani was for that purpose.

"I wanted to do my duty as a police captain," he said. "D'Alema was instructed not to give Pellicani any money unless it was requested."

A job dispute ensued during various parts of the session between defense counsel and State's attorney with Judge Dillon finally stepping into the discussion with the remark: "Let's forget all this parties."

During the cross-examination of Captain Hurley, Judge Dillon interrupted the court officers to eject any spectators from the court who noticed any disturbance.

Several defense witnesses testified to seeing D'Alema talking with Leahy, County's chief, and that no money was mentioned, another asserting that there was not one meeting of the two on a certain night upon which, according to D'Alema's story, he met County's chief and talked money the second time.

THE PIONEER

WRIGHT AND HIS FAMOUS FIRST BIRD

On December 17, 1903, with Orville Wright at the controls, this heavier than air plane flew at Kitty Hawk, N. C. Wilbur Wright crowded behind him. Flights of 12 to 59 seconds were made.

FROM HUMBLE BEGINNING

That first flight brought about a revolution in transportation. This modern plane is an example.

BUT THE FUTURE HOLDS

Within a few years you may expect machines as the air with the speed of a comet. Inset shows the relative size of a plane of today and of the future.

Scantly-Clad, Changes Hospitals in Chill Dawn

Thomas F. McNeil, 38, suffering with a sudden fall and congestion of the brain, changed hospitals today but didn't bother doctors with his change nor worry to recover much sleeping.

Hours of search, from the time he left the emergency operating room of the Massachusetts General Hospital, ended with his "resting" in the early morning hours by Morris Schwartz, driver of a newspaper. Schwartz discovered him wandering aimlessly alone (and street, and in a frozen sweater, cap and black shoes.

Dixie Crosby Hoyt, Dartmouth College graduate, and the novelty "slave anklet" encircling Mrs. Edith M. Hatch's stocking just above her shoe. 'Boy Mayor' at 32 ~ and His 'Grand Folks'

FROM DITCH-DIGGER TO HIGHEST OFFICE 50,000 COULD GIVE

Mayor-Elect and Mrs. James A. Roche and their daughter, Virginia, 10, and son, Gilbert, 17 months old. Mayor-Elect Roche is 32 years old, the boy mayor of a State, was digging ditches six years ago. Now he will run Everett for the next two years. He says Mrs. Roche, "a grand girl," really got him elected.

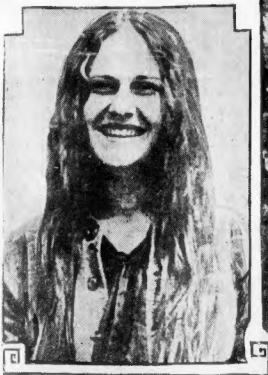

Lorraine to Spend Christmas ~ In Ruth's Prison

RUTH AND HER BABY AS PALS

SCORES WIDOW'S "MOTHER LOVE"

Mrs. Edith E. Hatch, with her lawyer, Edward W. Goodale, who battled for her against the guardianship petition of her daughter. She smiled frequently in court. Opposing counsel ridiculed her claim that her love for young Hoyt was the love of a mother for a son. Her lawyer valiantly defended her in court. Judge Beane took the case under advisement.

IN REMUS CASE

Mrs. Grace Campbell, sister of Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus, for whose murder George Remus is on trial, was questioned at length by defense who sought to show slain woman was in control of funds.

EVERETT'S NEW MAYOR FORMER DITCH DIGGER

From ditch digger to Mayor of a city of 50,000 in six years!

"Jimmie" Roche jumped it in Everett when young America swept him into the highest municipal office with the second largest vote ever recorded in that city.

What sort of a fellow is this youngest Mayor-elect in Massachusetts?

"Call me Jimmie if you are a friend," he insisted when interviewed.

"The Honorable Mayor staff embarrassed me."

There you have the real Jimmie Roche, the "big brother" to the city who used to hang around the street corners evenings before he organized a club which they named for him in Ward 3. He's the same regular guy who could lick his weight in wildcats in defense of the underdog but would not lift his voice to "sing" at the political machine which his election broke.

At least he says "the voters broke the machine but personally I wish to give my wife the credit for my victory. She went out and rung the doorbells."

JAPS HIT U. S. 'BILLION NAVY'

Tokio, Dec. 10 (U.S.A.)—Declaring it a reversal of the policy that inspired the Washington Disarmament Conference, America's billion dollar naval building program as presented to Congress was today assailed to day by the Japanese press.

After hinting that the program is intended as a bargaining lever to be used by the United States at the next naval disarmament conference, the newspaper Nishi Nishi declared: "Whatever the purpose, the program is a reversal of the policy followed since President Harding was in office. It has disappointed any hopes raised concerning America's leadership in the movement toward peace."

"Votes for Women" in Cities Supported by French Government

Paris, Dec. 10 (A.P.)—The French government has decided to support the cause of "votes for women" in municipal elections.

Premier Poincaré has written a letter providing his to Monsieur Verne, president of the French League of Women's Rights.

"I have the honor to inform you that the government has decided to support before the Senate the amendment establishing the universal electoral and eligibility of women to hold municipal office," Premier Poincaré wrote.

Women voters are satisfied to accept merely the municipal vote for the time being.

May and Dec. 10, 1937. (U.S.A.)—The French government has decided to support the cause of "votes for women" in municipal elections.

1 FUNERAL FOR 36 DEAD IN QUEBEC FIRE

Quebec, Dec. 10 (A.P.)—A funeral will take place Sunday afternoon for the victims of the fire which Wednesday destroyed the Hopkiss St. Charles Catholic Orphanage.

Bodies of three more children were found today, making the total 36.

Announcement of the city's decision was made by Mayor Langelier following a meeting of the finance committee. All expenses will be borne by the municipal and provincial authorities.

Burial will follow the group funeral service. On Monday a mass will be celebrated for the victims.

The 35-year-old orphanage, which had housed 36 children and a number of nuns, was a mass of incandescent flames. A modern wing, however, stood undamaged. The loss was estimated by the Rev. Mother St. Hieronymus at $250,000, of which $100,000 is covered by insurance.

Out of its disaster, the most serious of its kind in the history of the city, came stories of death of heroism, not the least of which was the woman with which Miss Anna Gouffault, 17, met her death rescuing her young charges in the burning building, on traps of which she brought out a few sleepy youngsters, she made a final visit from which she failed to return. Flowers later her charred body was found near a room in which several babies had been entrusted to their sleep.

Most of the recovered bodies were uncharred, indicating that death was merciful in its form. They were taken to the morgue, where only a few have been identified so far by relatives.

The blaze started in the basement and had worked its way to the second floor when it was discovered by passersby. The cause is undetermined.

3 ARMED BANDITS ROB JEWELER OF $500,000

Chicago, Dec. 10 (A.P.)—Ruth Lind, owner of a wholesale jewelry house in New York, was robbed of $500,000 worth of unset diamonds today, when three bandits snatched them as she stood on the rear platform of a street car. Two boys clung to the jewelry snatched from her hands as she fell.

The bandits, who were armed with pistols, were seen to be forced by the men, who were armed with pistols.

REPELO AGENT WARMS UP IN ITS DEFENSE

Testimony by C. J. Phillips of Chicago, agent and distributor of Repello, the patented floor dressing, that it costs about a gallon to put on, and a class between Chairman Charles L. Carr and Associate Corporation counsel (James) Silverman, featured the resumed hearing of the Finance Commission today in the purchase of Repello by the city of Boston.

Phillips, who made the trip from Chicago to defend Repello, which previous expert testimony declared was worth about 37 cent a gallon, was examined by his counsel, Atty. John J. Maloney. He testified that Repello was a secret formula making it impossible for its competitors to waterproof qualities and being less inflammable.

He said, Repello was originally manufactured by Scholfield, Evans & Co. of Philadelphia, but they recently gave up the selling and he is handling it from Chicago.

The witness said there is a variance of price due to shipping costs, but the normal price up to August 1 was $4.50 a gallon. At that time the price was over a square foot basis. Phillips said, as it was found some builders were spreading it too thick.

He told of the heavy sales of Repello, particularly in the Middle West, Missouri Valley and Pacific coast, but admitted attempts had been made to sell it to the city of Chicago for ten years without success.

Questioned by Chairman Carr and others as to ingredients, Phillips said he knew nothing about it, and could not say whether it was a fire hazard or not.

C. S. REPORT RECAL
Phillips said L. Downing, counsel for the Finance Commission, then read a report by the U. S. Bureau of Standards, dated in 1918, which stated the sample of Repello destroyed for wooden floors was one-half inch thick, three-eighths drying oil and one-fifth waxing material. The main portion was found to be raw linseed oil and oil of turpentine.

The report said Repello took from three to five days to dry and the penetration was not great.

Phillips said the test was made by the Scholfield, Evans & Co. of Philadelphia, but he was getting contracts for ships at the emergency time, and he believed the sample was specially made for ships.

The clash between Chairman Carr and Associate Corporation Counsel

MAN CURED WHEN CARR AND SILVERMAN TAKING WITH ATTORNEY MALONEY

EVERMAN ANGRY
"I wonder if the city council is seeing the attorney for the reason," said Chairman Carr. Silverman, apparently indignant, said to his feet and replied: "Can't a man speak to anybody about being surprised? If I cared to coach him I would."

Carr: I was wondering if the city council represented the city or someone else.

Silverman: I at least conform to the ethics of my profession and keep customer's agreements. At this point Chairman Carr said: "I'm sorry you don't always represent gentlemen," and the argument ceased abruptly.

After Phillips had concluded, Chairman Carr asked Dr. A. H. Gull, in charge of the chemical analysis at M. I. T. who yesterday testified of tests a gallon would be a good price for this product, if the testimony of the agent had changed his opinion.

"No," was the reply. "The government report substantiated what I said."

HARDING'S BODY TO NEW TOMB

Marion, O., Dec. 15 (A.P.)—Transfer of the bodies of President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding from the temporary vault in Marion cemetery to the new $100,000 marble tomb, built by public subscription, will take place next Wednesday, it was announced here today by Hobe Donihue, chairman of the executive committee of the Harding Memorial Association.

Services at the transfer will be semi-private, only relatives and close friends of the Harding family being invited.

Dedication of the memorial will probably take place next June, with President Coolidge delivering the principal address, Donihue said.

SIX INCHES OF SNOW IN CENTRAL VERMONT

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 15 (A.P.)—Over six inches of snow had fallen in Central Vermont at noon today covering the slippery ice that had made pedestrian travel difficult since the latest storm of Tuesday. Indications seemed to be that the storm would turn into rain. Reports from Windsor and nearby points were that a rain and sleet storm is occurring.

SUFFOCATED IN HUGE COAL BIN

Haverhill, Dec. 15 (A.P.)—Harold W. Corson, 20, a fireman at the Haverhill Boardwalk Company, was suffocated today when he fell into a huge bin of soft coal. Corson went to the top of the bin to loosen the coal and fell. The coal started sliding and buried him alive. He was found dead 20 minutes later.

PLEADS TO SALE OF MURDER GUN

John Nagle, 45-year-old restaurant proprietor of Washington street, West Newton, in Newton district court today was given a six-month suspended sentence after pleading not to sell a revolver to Joseph F. Buckley of Waltham, charged with the murder of Grace Mills.

Nagle was charged with selling firearms without a permit, and Inspector John H. Shaughtnessy was the only witness. He testified the defendant admitted selling the weapon to Buckley who was a patron of his restaurant and that the gun was used in the shooting of Miss Mills last month.

Prosecution Officer John Enneking told Judge William F. Bacon Nagle was ignorant of the law and recommended leniency.

BIRTHDAY ENDS DONAHUE REHEARSAL
Jack Donahue, Boston's own inimitable actor, and Miss Gladys Glad, rehearsing in "Rosalie," just before thought that his child Babbs was five, sent him suddenly from the stage to do his birthday gift shopping.

By WIN BROOKS.

"Tomorrow's Babbs' birthday!"

Not a particularly startling exclamation as you read it. But as, when, and where it was spoken, it proved to be quite so.

Rehearsal of "Rosalie" at the Colonial. Lights dark save for one big bulb burning over the orchestra pit. On a stage devoid of scenery, the Ziegfeld chorus is drilling again. Drill, drill, drill. Everlasting drill to perfection. Then some drill. In the front row of seats, Ziegfeld, the stage manager, one of the authors, the composer. In the balcony, the male principals of the American girl quartet's greatest production running through their lines, sharpening the edges of humor. A lean, tanned fellow with a quarter mile of winding curls and a pair of exceedingly restless feet, is explaining to the King of Tomorrow, wearing a blue topcoat and gray suit just how it was he arrived from America without flying.

"See I said—I'd do something for you I wouldn't do for anybody else in the world. I—I'll take a look." And then Jack Donahue snatched his fingers and shouted: "Tomorrow's Babbs' birthday!" "Where did we write that in?" somebody inquired. "Well, we didn't," said Jack. "But it is just the same. Know there was something on my mind. The opening, and rehearsal, kind of drove it out. But that's it. See you later."

So the most popular, and probably the funniest man on the stage today, ducked out and left rehearsal.

week, but having a lot of fun," he said. "Then came caught up with him, or so with fame, and the start that was always good, even in the old days. Squares against days, brought down the house and a fortune on his head."

LIVE IN NEW YORK.

When a fortune falls on your head like that it is very apt to swing from the impact. But do you know any chance? Neither do we.

"Alice this wife and the kid live in New York. Only one cousin in the world we don't live in Charlie."

town. That's because I must be in New York practically all the time, and I want my wife and my kids with me. My mother and sister still live in Charleston, and I've more friends in the shadow of Bunker Hill than anywhere else in the world."

That brings us to the fact that Jack Donahue is worried. The show? Ziegfeld's greatest hit! He hears! He can work twenty-five and a half hours a day. What then? It's this: Charleston wants him while he's here, for banquets and smokers and open-house gatherings and he can't attend them all.

"Always, before, I've spent most of my time out of the theatre and there. But the show is long now, getting better, improving it, every night after the performance, and I can't make it."

ACTRESS GODMOTHER.

"What's Charleston going to say, I'll tell you: 'He's with Ziegfeld and Marilyn Miller now, getting too high-tailed. Getting high, that, maybe.'"

"Will they say that?" All the punch in the world in that question. They will not, you tell him.

There's not a high bat in the world that will fit Jack Donahue's head. He's married seven years. Very much in love with his wife and children. Ziegfeld Miller is godmother to his youngest. He has written three plays and some short stories. He plays baseball a lot and tennis a very little. Golf? With knickers? No, he doesn't play golf.

"Say, what would these feet be doing under those trousers?"

What about him impressing you most? Genuine sincerity and friendliness. (1847, size Charleston, we know Fuller.

all that. Tell us something we don't know about him. All right, he doesn't wear knickers in the winter time. Say, are Charleston, don't we go skinned with him in the old days, when you had to crack the ice in the harbor?

SPAN DEFENDS PRINCE AS FIT TO BE A KING

London, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—Prompted by a renewal of reports in some sections of the British press that the Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, would be relieved of his succession to the throne because of ill health, the Spanish Embassy here today issued a denial.

The Embassy statement says: "Constant repetition of the groundless rumors regarding the succession in the throne of Spain calls for a contradiction of an as action which has again recently been published in a certain section of the London and continental press.

"There is no reason to do the present for any such change as is so gratuitously announced in London. His Royal Highness the Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, is a young man of remarkable intelligence and social graces with all the essential qualities necessary for a sovereign.

"It is in every way inconceivable that such a campaign as this on two occasions during the present year, waged probably by the same persons, should be sustained with a candor only comparable with the last taste with which the most absurd feelings of the Spanish royal family are treated."

Prince Alfonso of the Asturias, now twenty, has been in doubt of health because of a spinal disorder which has persisted since birth.

FOUR SAVED AT MARBLEHEAD HOTEL FIRE

Marblehead, Dec. 16.—Four persons were rescued from ladders and seventeen other guests fled safely from the Hotel Glover in front street during a fire that caused damage of $15,000.

Falling glass crashed down on a sooty fire, starting several, but shattering on the metal of their frames.

Mrs. Edith Carr, owner of the hotel, discovered the fire after she had been awakened by smoke. She sounded a fire alarm, then ran through the establishment to the guests.

So rapidly did the flames sweep, however, that four of the guests were trapped on the second floor before they could reach the smoke-filled stairways of the four-story building.

Firemen arrived quickly, raised ladders, and the trapped four were taken from their perches in the windows and carried to the street.

Much of the fire was in the partitions and although tons of water were poured into the building the water had little effect as the firemen groped their way through the thick-flooding smoke and chopped partitions open.

GOLEGE HEADS IN MAIL 'FRAUD'

Washington, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—Eight officers of the Central Postal Directory College of Fargo, N. D., which was incorporated in Washington, were indicted by the Federal grand jury here today for conspiracy to defraud by use of the mails.

The college is said to be one of several similar institutions incorporated by Gilbert Patton Brown, recently indicted for a similar conspiracy.

The indictments mentioned an avert case the mailing of five letters from some of the accused to Miss Helen Hurley of this city. Those indicted were:

Ben Martin, superintendent of schools at Dearborn, N. D.

Otis Briggs, president of the Central Scientific College, Indianapolis.

C. H. Gumbel, headmaster of the college, Indianapolis.

Leona Conley, a director of the college, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dr. O. L. Britt, professor of the college, address unknown.

John A. Galbreath, former state senator of Ohio and conductor of the Carnegie College at Rogers, O., also known as a professor of the Fargo college.

Jerome L. Gibe, a director of the college, Bridgeton, N. J., and formerly of South Haven, Mich.

Two hundred and fifty members will be present and they will bring their own choir. Archdeacon Dunne, pastor, will preach.

He will be the preacher also at the morning service on Sunday. The service as usual will run from back and Tremont streets to the parish, making the first trip at 9:30 a.m.

ILIAN PROPERTY BILL MAY BE PASSED BEFORE XMAS

Washington, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—A bill to provide for the return of property held by the Italian government, which was passed by the House of Representatives last week, may be passed by the House before Christmas was made President Coolidge by Alton Property Bill.

The bill was passed by the House of Representatives last week, and is now in the Senate.

DIE IN CHAIR AS JAIL COMEDY COMES TO END

Cosmopolitan, N. Y., Dec. 16 (A.P.)—Peter Seller, 25, and George Ricci, 31, were executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison today following presentation of the prison musical comedy "The Sweet Life." For three hours before they were electrocuted the condemned men were forced to listen to the laughter of 600 other prisoners.

Seller protested his innocence to the end. He was convicted of participation in a holdup in New York city in which Patrolman James Masterson was shot and fatally wounded. Ricci shot and killed Frank Smith, a real estate man by whom he had been employed as an apartment house superintendent. Ricci had declared Ricci.

Seller, in maintaining his innocence, bitterly attacked the law that makes all participants in a holdup resulting in the killing of a man in the first degree. Walter Tipping, the man said to have fired the shot that killed Masterson, was killed by the policeman who captured Seller in a log cabin at Old Forge, N. Y.

"Gentlemen," said Seller to the few officials witnessed in the death chamber, "the appeal court recommends a change in the law that I was convicted under. That doesn't do me any good, but I will gladly die if my death will bring about the change that the appeal court recommends. I believe in the law, and I bear no ill will."

PRIMATE FEARS MARBLEHEAD HOTEL FIRE

London, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of England, today issued an appeal to the members of the Church of England for patience and charity "in this time of confusion and anxiety" caused by the dramatic rejection of the revised Book of Common Prayer by the House of Commons.

The archbishop's appeal reads: "Every one will recognize the gravity of the situation which has arisen with regard to the life, work and the worship of the Church of England.

"The archbishops of Canterbury and York will next week, after consultation with other bishops, issue a statement which will guide the clergy and the laity of the church in this time of confusion and anxiety.

"The archbishops feel assured of prayers on their behalf, and in the issuance of such statement, ask that patience and charity may be exercised and precipitate words and acts avoided."

It is understood the meeting of the bishops will be held at Lambeth Palace on next Monday or Tuesday.

BAR BIZZING OF BURNS MAN

Washington, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—The defense in the Burns-Sullivan case, trial held today to break down the government's charge that the Burns-Sullivan case had established contact with a juror killed through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kilwell.

The government alleged that contacts of the juror were conscious of being followed and that Burns-Sullivan had been following him. Burns and four associates are on trial for contempt for alleged jury tampering.

Under examination by James J. O'Leary, assistant district attorney, Frank O'Reilly, a Burns agent, admitted that he had been following the juror. The government requested that O'Reilly be released from custody.

O'Reilly said when he talked with Mrs. Kilwell he did not enter her house, or did not mention juror Kilwell in the conversation.

CONGRESS RAN ON BOB

Washington, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—Only American citizens would be allowed to sit in Congress under a constitutional amendment introduced in the House today by Rep. William of Tennessee. This provision now applies to presidents only.

Another amendment aimed at "alien" was introduced by Rep. Stalker (R., N. Y.).

He would exclude aliens in counting the whole number of persons in each state for apportionment of the membership of the House of Representatives. This amendment would knock out 30 wet Congressmen, and "put a crimp in Tammany Hall."

SEIZE $50,000 RUM CARGO, HOLD 10 MEN AND WOMAN

New Haven, Dec. 16 (A.P.)—State police today seized the motor ship M. E. Haines, of Port Dover, N. S., with a $50,000 cargo of rum and its crew of four men, and then arrested a New Haven woman art keeper and the men who were waiting with two motor trucks for the ship to be loaded. The seizure was made in East Haven river, six miles east of the center of the city.

The four men taken on the boat are being held in default of $100,000 each, and according to police, have given fictitious names. The boat is registered in the name of S. D. Elliott, of Lanesburg, N. S.

The rum, which was seized last week, was the result of a search of the ship's papers, which were found in Liberty place, and the 400 boxes.

1913 DEER DIE IN BAY STATE THIS YEAR

Complete records in Wisconsin show that during the past year, 1913, 1,212 deer were killed during the open season, which closed November 1, 1913. This figure compares with the 1,211 killed during the same season last year.

The season was somewhat at the State's favor, but the fact that the deer were killed in the open season, and not in the closed season, is a matter of some importance. It is believed that the deer were killed in the open season because of the large number of deer in the State.

The man, who was identified as John J. Smith, was found in the chair in the jail cell of the New York State Prison at Sing Sing.

Smith was found in the chair in the jail cell of the New York State Prison at Sing Sing.

"Goodness," said Smith, to the few official witnesses in the death chamber, "the appeal court room is a chance in the two that I was executed under. I don't do me any good, but I will die if my death will bring about the change that the court recommends by legislation. I die with a smile, my conscience is clear, and I hope no ill will."

 Brighton vs. Latin

 Northampton vs. Belmont Arts
 Fenwick vs. Jamaica Plain
 Cambridge vs. East Boston
 First facelift at 5 o'clock

The opening game on tomorrow's Morning Glory schedule between Boston Latin and Brighton High features the six-game card for the school boys. While the other five clashes are anything but setups, the opening game appears like the heavy cream of the bottle.

Latin, by its bid at showing a new side, is the favorite. The Purple Line team, coached by Coach C. J. Glavin, is a well-coached team, it functions like a machine and is certain to make a full for the school championship.

The Brighton boys are a well-coached team, it functions like a machine and is certain to make a full for the school championship. The forward line of Captain Smith, Traversy and Kruttsch has developed an uncanny passing game. The defense is coming right along and a second Vernon Fane is the person of Jerry Moore's found in the territory.

LATIN HAS VETERANS
 Brighton's best bet are Captain Paul Glavin at center ice and Harry on the defense. Glavin stood back during the past season and was in playing brilliant hockey right now. It remains to be seen whether Glavin, wherever Glavin and Ryder can stand off the heavy attack of the Purple Line.

Latin's main fault this season has been the inability to form a line, not the jump once they have retrieved the puck. The Purple Line breaks away slowly, and the work will not be many games before the season is over.

Another come action has been carried between Captain Smith and Jamaica Plain. The Jamaica team played quite a surprise last week by its unexpected showing. Although it was not very veteran, Coach Glavin was collected with many surprises to fill in the hole.

PEERING THE BINKER
 Boston College High will meet a formidable foe in Trade School Led by Binkering, a big forward, the teammen are literally back pats and a tough team to score on. They are a brilliant defensive team, while on the offensive they are able to take the puck and pass it around.

The effort has a keen character. The effort has a keen character. The effort has a keen character. The effort has a keen character. The effort has a keen character.

BOBBY JONES ENDORSES
 TRAVIS MEMORIAL TROPHY
 Bobby Jones, foremost figure in the golf world, is the latest of the leaders in the sport to endorse the donation of the Walter J. Davis Memorial Trophy valued at $100, offered anonymously for the club representative since the national amateur championship of golf club champions at St. Augustine, Fla., January 4 to January 7. The Travis Memorial is a one year trophy, but will become the permanent possession of any club whose representative wins the tournament three times, not necessarily in succession.

SPAIN'S RING LEADER

THIS SPANIARD KNOWS HIS ONIONS
 And is none other than Hilarie Martinez, lightweight champion of Europe, who meets Billy Alger of Arizona in the Argonne A. A. main bout next Monday night.

BILLY ALGERS HAS SHOWN K. O. SOCK

Billy Algers, Phoenix, Ariz., winner of 40 bouts by the knockout route in 84 starts and conqueror of Clyde Bull and Joey Knapp in two successive at Boston, will clash with Hilarie Martinez, lightweight champion of Europe, in the Argonne A. A. main bout at the Mechanic's Building next Monday night.

Algers replaces Billy Murphy of Lowell against the hard hitting Spaniard.

It was Algers who decisively defeated Clyde Bull just before the latter knocked out Johnny Indrasno, breaking his jaw in the first round of a fight in New York.

Seldom have two harder hitters been seen in the same ring as Algers and Martinez, each whom rely on a tremendous swiftness to bring them home to victory.

Algers is one of the most colorful sides in the ring. He holds a victory over Ace Hightkin and he also has beaten Billy Joe Carr, the best action of the Pacific Coast, Sergeant Sammy Baker and gave Joe Dundee the battle of his life. He also knocked out Billy Goldstein.

Algers will arrive in the first night and will be seen in action to meet Algers' opponent.

Algers' fight with Martinez will be a real one. Martinez is a middleweight champion of France in the 140 and 145 lbs. weight. Martinez returned to the ring and he was successful.

Romero Rojas decided that Eddie Calahan was too tough for the money he was receiving and Tom Murphy of Southerland was substituted against the Almerion boy.

Both of these battles have won every fight in Boston. There is such rivalry between these two fighters that they are fighting winner take all.

Harry Boe, Little Chicago boxer, who made such a big hit in his first appearance here, will meet Jimmy Vanecko in a return match. Vanecko was a questionable success in his last meeting.

Bernard Budko, Harvard Law School student, and Tom Taylor, North of Boston in a six rounder while Eddie Carr, West End, boxer, will meet Almerion in the main bout.

For the naturally left-handed golfer to turn around and beat him from the right side is entirely feasible. At first he will want just a bit awkward, just as a right-handed player does awkwardly about the task of hitting a left-handed ball. Tunney Ring Asset
Great Boost in Game
Leads All Champs
By NICK FLATLEY

(CHAMPION GENE GIVES RING WONDERFUL BOOST)

JAMES JOSEPH TUNNEY is the greatest asset the boxing game has known. This is not taking a thing away from the illustrious John L. Sullivan, or any of the rest of the famous John L. and Terry McGovern, and a flock of others up to and including Jack Dempsey, have been popular idols and box office attractions.

They have packed the crowds in and kept the racket running along smoothly on financial wheels, but there never has been anybody prior to James Joseph, who carried the ring game into the realm of the wealthy and the intellectual, and made the boys and girls like it. Boxing, as you know, has always been looked down on by what might be termed the better sort of citizens. Just a rough, tough game that answered the call in man for the elemental, or words to that effect. It was tolerated, but its heroes were never showered with tea and dinner engagements from the first families.

James Joseph Tunney has changed all that. He put on the high hat, as the boys say, as soon as he began to climb toward the pinnacle, and he has been wearing said hat steadily ever since. And consider what it has done for him. He hobnobs with millionaires and aristocrats.

He can swap idle but steady chatter with the tea sippers; he can absorb the supposed pearls of wisdom that drop from the lips of the intellectuals, and know what it's all about. Practice has given him the grand manner so well that it's instinct with him now. He is fitting either and you around the land, making a whole of a bit everywhere he shows.

"This boxing," those who used to sniff disdainfully, are now saying, "must be a fine thing, if this cultured person is a champion at it."

Master Tunney, millionaire in his own right, has taken by storm that section of the country that was most inclined to scoff at boxing and ready always to back any sort of legislation that might blot it out.

Followers of the ring are, many of them, hard-boiled and more or less primal. They laugh at Tunney and make no bones about expressing sarcastic and belittling opinions of the present champion. But it is easy for anyone with an analytic turn of mind to discover that Gene is helping his particular business more than any champion before him ever came close to doing. James Joseph isn't a popular darling, but the country is beginning to realize that he is quite a big individual.

HOCKEY FANS LIKE SCRAPS ON THE ICE, BUT NOT THE FASTER KIND.

HOWLEY HAS COURAGE NEEDED FOR SUCCESS

DANIEL HOWLEY, first citizen of Weymouth, is going to be a successful big league manager. Just now Daniel is the sensation of the large baseball show. He has been twisting ball players around like a traffic cop hands out taxi. His drastic destruction of his St. Louis team has the whole country talking.

Daniel is a shrewd young man, even though he has been managing in the big league for but a single year. He didn't do much last summer; just lost back and forth what was a good deal of money. He was said to be a team that had slipped miserably, after being picked as a most likely permanent winner.

He took, one season, evidently to find out if that team had the makings. He decided that it had not. So he getting himself a new crew. His methods are unusual for a manager so young in the art of directing the team. He is a shrewd young man, even though he has been managing in the big league for but a single year.

FABLES IN SLANG

THE FABLE OF THE SOFT THING AND SOME OF THE THINGS THAT WERE DONE TO HIM.

AFTER A RELATIVE DIED, LEAVING A LARGE BALE OF COIN, A CERTAIN PUDDING BECAME ONE OF OUR PROMINENT CITIZENS.

HE WAS PIE THEREFORE FOR JOYOUS MITTS, GOLD BRICKS AND "SOCIAL PROMINENCE" GAGS ACCOMPANIED BY APPLICATION BLANKS.

Pie for Glad Hands

BOOK SALESMEN FOUGHT TO GIVE HIM SPECIAL TERMS FOR THE PRESTIGE FROM THE USE OF HIS NAME.

HE NEVER TOOK ANY BOOKS DOWN FOR FEAR HE COULD NOT GET THEM BACK IN THE RIGHT PLACE, AND IN THREE MONTHS HE BECAME AN ART CRITIC BECAUSE SEVERAL DEALERS TOOK HIM IN A BACK ROOM AND TOLD HIM SO!

MORAL

WEALTH BRINGS HAPPINESS ONLY WHEN EXPENDED FOR FUEL TO FEED THE SPIRITUAL EXISTENCE!

GOOD TIME GUY

SAY, WE AIN'T RIBBED GUY GREEN IN A LONG TIME—LET'S GET ORLANDO AND FUP A JOSE!

GUY'S GOOD FOR A LAUGH ANY TIME!

—AND WHEN GUY BENDS DOWN IN BACK OF THE MULE, YOU TIE THE MULE WITH A SLAT AND NATURE TAKES ITS COURSE!

HERE'S SOMETHING FOR YOU! WHEN YOU MADE THAT BREAK ABOUT GUY, YOU PUT YOUR FOOT IN IT—I'M RETURNING THE COMPLIMENT WITH MY WHOLE SOUL!

GUY'S A BIG MONEY MAN NOW—AND MY FRIEND! THE ONLY KICK HE GETS IS THE ONE HE CARRIES HIS COIN IN! I ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT THE DOLLAR SIGN IS A MARK OF RESPECT!

It's Different Now

THAT THIS OVER YOUR DESK

YOU CAN TELL BY THE BOSS'S EXPRESSION JUST ABOUT WHAT HE IS GOING TO DO FOR YOU THIS CHRISTMAS—IF HE HAS A FAR-AWAY LOOK IN HIS EYE, HE WILL GO OFF ON A SUDDEN BUSINESS OR HUNTING TRIP ABOUT THE TWENTY-THIRD AND THAT WILL BE THAT!

IF HE LOOKS PERFECTLY HAPPY AND CONTENTED, YOU KNOW HE IS GOING TO GIVE YOU A HEARTY HAND-SHAKE AND A BEAUTIFUL INSURANCE CALENDAR. THAT IS TOO BIG TO HAVE OVER HIS OWN DESK.

IF HE LOOKS DOWNRIGHT SORE AND MEAN, IT IS A SURE SIGN THAT HE'S GOING TO TELL YOU THAT BUSINESS IS BAD AND WHEN THINGS PICK UP EVERYBODY WILL BE PROPERLY TAKEN CARE OF."

BUT IF HE LOOKS UNHAPPY AND WORRIED, AND ASKING YOU KNOW HIS CONSCIENCE IS BOTHERING HIM AND WILL COME ACROSS A MONTH'S SALARY, TURKEY AND THREE DAYS SO YOU WON'T SEE HIM SUFFER.

THE PHENOMENA BREAKS LOOSE

WHILE DO AND MO BELIEVED OVER HAVING REACHED THE SOUTH POLE THE CAPTAIN DASHES INTO THE CABIN TREMBLING WITH FEAR AND BEGS EVERYONE TO HASTEN ONTO THE DECK.

LOOK! IT'S SUPPOSED TO BE NIGHT BUT IT'S LIGHT AS DAY—AND LOOK AT THE DYNAMITE MUST BE GOING OFF OVER THERE!

WHY CAP? I'M SURPRISED AT THOSE ARREST DYNAMITE FLASHES ARE AROUND! I WOULD SAY PHENOMENA MUST BE GOING OFF OVER THERE!

WELL, BELIEVE ME, I DON'T CARE TO HAVE PHENOMENA LANDING AROUND ME—I'M GOING BELOW.

QUICK! TELL THE ENGINEERS TO TURN THE ENGINE ON FULL-SPED AHEAD! WE MUST GET AWAY FROM HERE BEFORE WE'RE BLOWN TO THE BOTTOM OF THE ATLANTIC!

BOSTON ^{double} AMERICAN

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land; in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Best Apples

Is YOUR Favorite Among the Seven?

One would suppose that naming the best seven apples would be an undertaking almost as hazardous as picking an equal number of best novels, best plays or best poems.

The professors have gone and done it, however, and these are their selections:

- 1—McIntosh.
- 2—Northern Spy.
- 3—Delicious.
- 4—Gravenstein.
- 5—Jalisco.
- 6—Wealthy.
- 7—Rhode Island Greening.

Right away we hear the chorus of objection. "Where's the Porter?" one man asks, and another, "How about the Russet?" The Rome Beauty, the Winesap and the Wagner will have THEIR champions, too.

The list was made for New England by the pomologists of the agricultural colleges, the aim being a standardization of varieties.

An effort will be made to rid our orchards of such varieties as Hubbardston, Blue Permain and Ben Davis, for which there is little commercial demand. Thousands of these trees—in Maine alone more than 100 varieties were found on 1,000 farms—will be "topworked" to one of the Standard Seven.

It is all in the line of progress, no doubt, and the orchardist will be wise who follows the lead of the college men. Oldsters in the city who were boys upon the farm must be permitted a sigh of regret, however, for the passing of the sweets of their youth. Was there ever another apple, for example, to compare with the variety Merrimacspoke knew as the "sheepsnooze"? What ever became of the sheepsnooze.

When Eve Was Young

And Adam Was Foolish

OHI SEE THE SNAKE

We know that this picture tells what really happened, long ago, in the Garden of Eden.

Just HOW long ago we do not know, because clergymen do not agree as to the exact meaning of time as described in the book of Genesis. Some say "a day" meant a long geological period, instead of twenty-four hours. If that is so it's lucky for us that our Sunday comes every seventh DAY and doesn't come at the end of every seventh geological period. If it did none of us would see Sunday.

But to come back to this pretty picture of ancient days and ancient innocence. How hard it is for us to realize that things actually happened in this way, although this, of course, is how they DID happen.

Here is Eve under the tree, still young. And there is Adam, poor goose, who didn't know enough to let the apple alone. Everything is beautiful and sunny. Adam is talking to a deer that doesn't fear him. He evidently has not yet learned to eat meat. And the little fawn is lying at Eve's feet in the foreground.

Eve has just picked the apple; you see it in her hand. And she is listening to that terrible snake in the leaves.

How hard it is for us to realize that even a snake would want to cause so much trouble. We understand it when we read that the snake was really Satan disguised, jealous of Adam and Eve's happiness, continuing his mean fight against the powers of heaven, that had buried him to the bottomless pit.

So here he is whispering, "Go ahead and bite it; you will know more after you eat that apple than you ever knew before."

Foolish Eve bit it, and after that everything went wrong. The little fawns wouldn't come near her, and the deer ran away from Adam because they knew he would eat them. Eve and Adam were driven from the Garden by an angel with a flaming sword, and Eve, who had been perfectly happy

LAWYER'S SIX RULES TO WIN SUCCESS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I HAD a talk with a lawyer the other day and he said he had run across six sayings that impressed him as important. They are: Think big, talk little, love much, laugh easily, pay cash, and be kind.

He has found these things important in his business. In the first place, a man must think big. It is just as easy to think $500 as to think 50 cents. If you think big, your actions are likely to be big.

Don't think too highly of yourself, but think highly of your job.

Talk little. A man who says nothing is always given credit for what he doesn't know. The Bible says somewhere that "Even a fool is counted wise when he holdeth his peace."

Love much. Nothing that amounts to anything in this world is done without love. You have to love a man or a dog or a job before you are able to criticize intelligently.

Laugh easily. A sense of humor gets over many a hard place and solves many a difficult problem. Things can be laughed away that can't be got rid of in any other way.

Work hard. The man who loves his work is fortunate, and the man who is never happy unless he is at work is liable to go forward. And to be kind is one of the best rules we can have.

We never regret anything we have done in the spirit of kindness.

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

with that long hair and innocent look, suddenly discovered that she wanted clothing, and started making it out of the leaves of trees.

Adam gradually got clothing, too, although he little dreamed that his descendants would wear "nobby suits," stovepipe hats, spats and ulsters.

Eve never dreamed of the bustle, the crinoline, or the "back to Eve" skirt of today.

If only Eve had said to the snake, "Get out of here; I will call your husband," or if she had handed him the apple and said, "Eat it yourself, and when you know more you will know that you can't make a fool of ME."

But no, she ate it and gave Adam a bite. Happy Eden ended. The triceratops, the mammoth, dinosaur, humped back camel and red-haired gorilla would no longer eat out of little Abel's hand. Snakes poisoned, donkeys kicked, lions bit and roared, geese hissed, everything was discord. And the clothing business and the cloak and suit business started.

How hard for us with our feeble imaginations to realize that this scene was positively the beginning of two great industries.

Boston DAY by DAY

RECENTLY Alden H. Kenyon, Boston advertising expert, took a message of goodwill to the St. Louis business men, on his way back he had much time to think how nice it would be if Boston showed more aggressiveness and state pride. Kenyon, who is a member of the Advertising Club and the Cross-Capital Post of the American Legion, decided he would start the ball. So at a meeting of the Boston Advertising Club members were pleased to find that Mr. Kenyon had donated a large handsome suit. The Rev. Patrick T. Campbell, master of the Boston Latin School, must feel proud that his school was well represented at the third time in succession the coveted Harvard Phi Beta Kappa scholarship. Every year since 1916 the Harvard chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, America's oldest fraternity, has offered a scholarship prize to the school whose students maintain high averages.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALAN MICHAELS
The odds against him through the years were great, he stood alone against the world, the battle lost, why, for a time, the right must be accounted low, and wrong exalted at such fearful cost. One monster and despair and gloom, then, why he went with soul and spirit, he never faltered in his march, he never wavered in his quest for truth; and year by year he gave to each his best, his best light and hope, and so, we know,

LISTEN, WORLD

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SABRILLE WEST has given me a very old Russian icon. Within a curiously wrought iron frame there is a painting of the Christ. An unusual painting—not the sad, meek Jesus as we often see, but a strong, ardent man, whose face set squarely on broad shoulders, a great thrust of red hair above the eager eyes. Ever since I saw it I have been wondering how I have seen it over my working dress. You would hardly think that a bit of old silver and painted parchment could make a change in one's life, but it has made a change in mine. I've been sad lately and dull and discouraged. Somehow that red-headed Christ has put a new fire in me. A red-headed Christ? There was a tradition—want to hear—about Christ's red hair. But we seem to have forgotten that. A dim, vague, long suffering man—that's the picture that has come down to us. And about it we have built cold, cautious religions for the blind-alighted. But Christ wasn't vague or dim or cautious— He was young and fervent and he flamed as hotly as his mop of sun-burned hair. My hand is on the icon and I'm seeing him clearer and plainer through the mist. A sturdy adventurer, rugged, long-
